How God uses our distinctiveness

Peter preaches to a crowd of believers about who should replace Judas as one of the twelve. He recommends that it should be someone who has been with them from the beginning and who is a witness to the resurrection. Two names are proposed. After praying for the Lord’s guidance, lots are drawn and Matthias becomes the new apostle.

Today we consider the roles we fulfil in different areas of our lives. We are all different in temperament, gifts and abilities, yet we all have something to offer – to others and to God. How do we know if we are called to a particular role? How do we identify potential in others?

Collect We say together

O God the King of glory,
you have exalted your only Son Jesus Christ
with great triumph to your kingdom in heaven:
we beseech you, leave us not comfortless,
but send your Holy Spirit to strengthen us and exalt us to the place where our Saviour Christ is gone before,
who is alive and reigns with you,
in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
one God, now and for ever.

Psalms 1

1 Blessed is the one who does not walk in step with the wicked or stand in the way that sinners take or sit in the company of mockers,

2 but whose delight is in the law of the Lord, and who meditates on his law day and night.

3 That person is like a tree planted by streams of water, which yields its fruit in season and whose leaf does not wither — whatever they do prospers.

4 Not so the wicked! They are like chaff that the wind blows away.

5 Therefore the wicked will not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

6 For the Lord watches over the way of the righteous, but the way of the wicked leads to destruction.

Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit as it was in the beginning is now and shall be for ever. Amen.

To my St Barnabas Family,

Thank you to all of you for the very special way in which you came together to make my Licencing such a wonderful occasion. Your generosity yesterday and since I have been here has been so amazing, when I think of it, I am moved to tears. Thank you to the Wardens, the Council and to each and every one of you for all you did yesterday and for all you continue to do for me. I feel truly blessed and privileged to be your new Parish Priest and I look forward to sharing in all the different moments in your lives be it happy or not so happy. I love you all with the love of Christ and I look forward to serving you all.
